Teacher Credentialing Commission Offers Webinar on California's Educator Discipline Process

SACRAMENTO – What happens in the review process when an educator is reported to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing for alleged misconduct? How does the Commission find out about misconduct and start an investigation? These and other questions about the Commission and its Committee of Credentials will be answered in a Webinar entitled California's Educator Discipline Process--Laws and Current Commission Procedures.

Date: July 12, 2011

Time: 10:00 A.M.

Where: You may attend in person at the Commission offices (1900 Capitol Avenue in Sacramento) or watch online at: <http://www.ctc.ca.gov/live.html>.

A PowerPoint version of the presentation will be available online and an archive of the session will be available after the Webinar. The link to register for the webinar (and to submit a question about the discipline process) is provided here: <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/EducatorDiscipline> .

Included in the webinar will be information on the following:

- The relationship between the Commission and the Committee of Credentials.
- Laws governing California's educator discipline process.
- The differences between Mandatory Actions and Discretionary Review.
- How the Committee of Credentials (COC) works.
- Next steps once the COC makes a recommendation.

The webinar is open to educators, stakeholders, policy makers and interested members of the public. Please join us.
