Proposed Amendments to Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations Pertaining to the Specific Requirements to Demonstrate Subject Matter Competence for Preliminary and Clear Teaching Credentials for Applicants Prepared in California and Plan to Implement the Reauthorization of Elementary Subject Matter Programs

Introduction

This agenda item presents proposed amendments to California Code of Regulations Title 5 pertaining to the specific requirements to demonstrate subject matter competence for Preliminary and Clear Teaching Credentials for applicants prepared in California. The proposed amendments include the reauthorization of elementary subject matter programs as an option for teaching credential candidates seeking to meet the subject matter requirement for teaching credentials. In addition, the item presents a plan for review and approval of Elementary Subject Matter programs for the Commission's consideration.

Background

The Education Code (EC) provides two routes for individuals to satisfy the subject matter requirement for earning teaching credentials. EC §44282 directs the Commission to adopt examinations and assessments to verify subject matter knowledge and competence for Multiple and Single Subject Teaching Credentials. In addition, EC §44310 authorizes the Commission to "waive" the subject matter examination requirement for individuals completing coursework at authorized institutions as approved by the Commission:

The commission shall waive the subject matter examination requirement for graduates of accredited public and private institutions of higher education who successfully complete subject matter programs specified by the commission.

Eligibility for an examination waiver can only be achieved when the subject matter program is one which is listed by the commission under Section 44282, and the program has been successfully completed in an approved institution of higher learning.

To conform with the Federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) law and the California State Board of Education's State Plan, the Commission took action at its October 2003 meeting that all candidates for a Multiple Subject Credential must pass the Commission-adopted examination (CSET) to satisfy the subject matter requirement, and credential candidates enrolled after July 1, 2004 would no longer be able to complete a subject matter program to satisfy the subject matter requirement, as outlined in Coded Correspondence 03-0025.

Implications of the Examination Requirement

Discussion at the April 2016 Commission meeting included several points of concern regarding the present requirements in connection with this issue. Concern has been expressed that there are multiple subject candidates beginning their teacher preparation programs without a deep understanding of the content they will be teaching. Also discussed was whether it is fair to offer only the examination option for demonstrating elementary subject matter competence while candidates for the Single Subject credential retain the option of completing either an examination or a Commission-approved subject matter program. Some candidates may have issues with tests due to disability, or may have weak standardized test-taking skills, yet may demonstrate strong undergraduate academic performance or have relevant experience in the practical application of the subject matter knowledge in question.

As California seeks to remedy the decline of the recent past in recruiting and retaining individuals in the teaching profession, restricting multiple subject credential candidates to only the examination option could be seen as creating a barrier to individuals who may otherwise be qualified to be effective teachers.

Recent Change Eliminating the Highly Qualified Designation

Section 1119 of NCLB, which requires all teachers of core academic subjects in the state to be “highly qualified,” is among the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) that states are not required to implement in the 2016-17 school year in order to facilitate an orderly transition to the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Highly qualified teacher (HQT) is a term that was defined in NCLB. Under ESSA, the federal definition of HQT is eliminated in favor of allowing states to set their own teacher standards. States will continue to be required to disclose the steps they are taking to evaluate the equity of teacher distribution and the qualifications of their teachers and school administrators.

With this change, the Commission is in a position to make the completion of elementary subject matter programs once again an option for teaching credential candidates to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential.

Implications of Reauthorization

The reauthorization of elementary subject matter programs to meet the subject matter requirement would necessitate an amendment to current regulations. Currently, California Code of Regulations, Title 5 §80413(a)(5)(A) specifically states that educators enrolled in California teacher preparation programs on or after July 1, 2004 seeking a Multiple Subject credential must pass a subject matter examination to meet the subject matter knowledge requirement:

“For a multiple subject credential, an applicant enrolled in a teacher preparation program prior to July 1, 2004 shall meet this requirement either by passage of an examination as provided in Education Code Sections 44280, 44281, and 44282 or by completion of a subject-matter program as provided in Education Code Section 44310. An applicant enrolled in a teacher preparation program on or after July 1, 2004 shall meet this requirement by passage of an examination as provided in Education Code Sections 44280, 44281 and 44282.”

In addition to Multiple Subject credential candidates, the reauthorization of elementary subject matter programs would make it possible to allow this pathway toward meeting the subject matter requirement to be used by credential candidates seeking the Education Specialist Instruction credential, as well as by fully credentialed teachers seeking to add an additional credential type. Therefore, in addition to Title 5 §80413, the proposed regulations include amendments to §§80048.8, and 80499 to provide for these additional changes.

Allowing subject matter programs to serve as a means of demonstrating subject matter competence for credentialing purposes would provide a strong, consistent program route for multiple subject credential candidates, and at the same time address the current inequities between credential requirements, allowing the use of subject matter programs in single subject areas to meet the subject matter requirement for credentialing but excluding elementary subject matter programs.

The reauthorization of elementary subject matter programs would also require that the Commission develop program standards and initiate a program development and review process. Part II of this item will address these issues.

Next Steps Regarding Regulations

Staff recommends that the Commission approve the proposed amendments to Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations pertaining to the specific requirements to demonstrate subject matter competence for Preliminary and Clear Teaching Credentials for applicants prepared in California in order to schedule a public hearing following the required 45-day response period.

Summary of Proposed Amendments

(a)(5)(A) Proposes deleting the date July 1, 2004 and the associated language that eliminated the use of subject matter programs to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential. Out of concerns related to No Child Left Behind (NCLB) and the federal definition of Highly Qualified Teachers, the option for teachers to complete a Commission-approved elementary subject matter program to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential was removed by Commission action effective July 1, 2004, creating an inequity between the multiple and single subject credential subject matter requirements.

Under the Federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), the federal definition of Highly Qualified Teachers is eliminated in favor of allowing states to determine their own teacher qualifications. With this change, the Commission is in a position to reinstate the completion of elementary subject matter programs as an option for teaching credential candidates to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential, as authorized under Education Code (EC) §44310, resolving the current inequity between the multiple and single subject credential requirements.

(d)(2)(A) Proposes the deletion of the application and instruction sheet revision dates and the obsolete Form 41-ECC Explanation of Criminal Conviction or Pending Criminal Charge, which has been replaced by Form OA-EF Professional Fitness Explanation Form, and adds reference to §80001, which now provides definitions for applications used for certification purposes.

(e)(2)(A) Proposes the deletion of the application and instruction sheet revision dates and the obsolete Form 41-ECC Explanation of Criminal Conviction or Pending Criminal Charge, which has been replaced by Form OA-EF Professional Fitness Explanation Form, and adds reference to §80001, which now provides definitions for applications used for certification purposes.

§80048.8

(a)(4)(B) Proposes adding the option to complete a Commission-approved elementary subject matter program to meet the subject matter requirement for the Education Specialist Instruction credential.

With the proposed reinstatement of completing an elementary subject matter program for teaching credential candidates to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential, as proposed in §80413, for the sake of equity this option should also be applied to educators seeking the Education Specialist Instruction credential, as authorized under Education Code (EC) §44310, resolving the current inequity that allows subject matter programs in single subject areas to be used toward obtaining this type of certification but excluding elementary subject matter programs.

(c)(2)(A) Proposes adding the option to complete a Commission-approved elementary subject matter program to meet the subject matter requirement to allow previously credentialed teachers to obtain a new credential type under the provisions of this section, as authorized under EC §44310, resolving the current inequity that allows subject matter programs in single subject areas to be used toward obtaining this type of certification but excluding elementary subject matter programs.

(d)(2)(A) Proposes adding the option to complete a Commission-approved elementary subject matter program to meet the subject matter requirement to allow previously credentialed teachers to obtain a new credential type under the provisions of this section, as authorized under EC §44310, resolving the current inequity that allows subject matter programs in single subject areas to be used toward obtaining this type of certification but excluding elementary subject matter programs.

The full text of the proposed regulations is provided in Appendix A of this agenda item.

Part II: Plan for Review and Approval of Elementary Subject Matter Programs

Introduction

At its April 2016 meeting, the Commission was presented with an introduction to the topic of multiple subject credential candidates to demonstrate their subject matter competence through the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET), or through completion of a Commission-approved subject matter program. Commission members signaled their interest in exploring options for re-instating the option to complete an elementary subject matter program to meet the state subject matter requirements.

Background

Beginning in 2004, newly prepared teachers were no longer given the option of completing a Commission-approved elementary subject matter program to demonstrate subject matter competence. When the Federal No Child Left Behind, (NCLB) law was passed in 2003 one of the key components was the designation of Highly Qualified Teachers (HQT). The definition of HQT for elementary teachers, those who hold a Multiple Subject teaching credential, only included passage of the CSET: Multiple Subjects. Under the new Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) the federal definition of HQT is eliminated in favor of allowing states to determine their own teacher qualifications. With this change, the Commission is in a position to make the completion of elementary subject matter programs once again an option for teaching credential candidates to meet the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential.

Prior to 2042, when NCLB went into effect, there were 62 Commission approved Elementary Subject Matter Programs available for Multiple Subject credential candidates. Currently there are only 37 institutions that still have not been withdrawn or put on inactive status. In order for these institutions to be able to open their programs again without having to go through a full program approval staff suggests that the institution create a transition document or matrix similar to what was created for the Single-Subject Subject Matter Programs that ensured that all the Common Core Standards were addressed (English and Mathematics).

| | Pre 2042 Subject Matter Programs | 2042 Subject Matter Programs |
|--------------|---|-------------------------------------|
| CSUs | 20 | 12 |
| UCs | 6 | 0 |
| Privates | 36 | 25 |
| Total | 62 | 37 |

This document would ensure that the institution was aware of the changes that were required due to the new California State Standards, similar to the Single Subject Matrices that were released in 2013. Each subject would list the Subject Matter Requirements and the institution will indicate the coursework, assignments, and assessments that will ensure the standard is being met. (If the updated Science Standards are updated at the June Commission meeting, they would be included in the updated matrix.)

Elementary Subject Matter Program Recommendations

Staff recommends that if the Commission takes action to adopt the updated Subject Matter Requirements (SMRs) for Science teacher preparation at this meeting, that staff update the program matrix for Elementary Subject Matter programs to include the updated SMRs for Science in the Elementary Subject Matter Program course matrix.

If the Commission takes action to begin the rulemaking process, staff should contact the 37 Elementary Subject Matter programs that were approved under the SB 2042 standards to understand which programs are still operating and which would like to serve as waiver programs again.

Staff recommends that programs approved under the SB 2042 Elementary Subject Matter standards be required to submit an updated program matrix showing the courses in which prospective teachers learn the content identified in the Elementary Subject Matter program standards and once the matrix has been reviewed and approved, the program will be able to verify a prospective Multiple Subject teacher’s content knowledge. Staff proposes that there be no Initial Program Review fee assessed for the review of the updated program matrix.

Staff recommends that institutions that wish to offer a Commission-approved Elementary Subject Matter program be required to submit a program proposal that includes the program matrix discussed above. For new Elementary Subject Matter programs, staff recommends that the institution pay an Initial Program Review fee ($300) when the program proposal is submitted.

Next Steps

Based on actions taken by the Commission, staff will work with prospective Elementary Subject Matter programs as well as the programs approved between 2002 and 2004 to support interested institutions in offering the Elementary Subject Matter program as an alternative to the CSET: Multiple Subjects examination to satisfy the subject matter requirement for the Multiple Subject teaching credential.
