2B: Options for Administrative Services Credential Examinations
Yvonne Novelli, Consultant, Phyllis Jacobson, Administrator, and Larry Birch, Director, Professional Services Division, presented this item on options relative to examinations for the Administrative Services Credential.

Jenny Teresi, San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools, voiced concerns with the quality of a testing vehicle but there is also a need to keep the exam option open.

Kathy Harris, California Teachers Association, expressed concerns with an exam option for administrators. She also stated that an examination route should cover the program standards and include a performance assessment.

David Simmons, Ventura County Office of Education, spoke in support of continuing the current exam until a California-specific examination could be developed.

Susan Westbrook, California Federation of Teachers, voiced support of the use of a Commission-developed exam as part of program completion rather than an exam route only option.

Sharon Robison, Association of California School Administrators, voiced support of keeping the examination as an alternative. She also recommended the continuation of an exam option during the development of a California-specific assessment.

Commissioner Pearson moved to approve the development of the Commission’s own Administrative Services Credential examination and continue the use of the School Leaders Licensure Assessment (SLLA) during the interim. Commissioner Cheung seconded the motion. The motion carried without dissent.

Merrilee Johnson, Personnel Administrative Services Steering Committee and California County Superintendents Educational Services Association, voiced support of the work product as presented in the item.

Jean Gonsier-Gerdin, California State University, Sacramento and California TASH, voiced concerns about the omission of the traumatic brain injury and other health impairments disability areas within the Moderate/Severe Disabilities authorization.
Kathleen Gee, California State University, Sacramento and California TASH, expressed concerns with the limited access to the core curriculum for all students and recommended that the experiences in student teaching reflect the full continuum of special education services.

Marty Cavanaugh, Sacramento County Office of Education, spoke in support of the Education Specialist Communication Development Credential.

Harold Acord, California Teachers Association, noted concerns with the induction requirements, the authorization and services allowed for the Communication Development Credential and the subject matter competence options for the Education Specialist Credential.

Susan Westbrook, California Federation of Teachers, voiced support of the autism spectrum disorder authorization and the Communication Development authorization. She also noted the need to strengthen the subject matter pedagogy requirements.

Sharon Robison, Association of California School Administrators, spoke in support for the Communication Development authorization.

Derek Ramage, Los Angeles Unified School District, expressed support for the Education Specialist Communication Development Credential.

Kathryn Benson, Pleasanton Unified School District, expressed appreciation for the work of the Design Team and voiced support of the addition of the Communication Development authorization.

Janet Canning, California Department of Education, noted support for the infusion of the autism spectrum disorder in all Education Specialist disability areas.

Pat Grayson-DeJong, Special Education Design Team, echoed the support for the infusion of the autism spectrum disorder across all disability areas.

Belinda Karge, Special Education Design Team, voiced support of the work done by the Special Education Design Team and the proposed standards.

Lanna Andrews, Special Education Design Team, spoke in support of the proposed standards and urged the Commission to move forward with the Communication Development Credential.

Linda Smetana, Special Education Design Team, expressed support of the Communication Development Teaching Credential and its ability to increase access to the core academic areas.

Jenny Teresi, San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools, voiced support of the proposed standards and the Education Specialist Communication Development Credential.

Commissioner Pearson directed staff to be diligent in addressing the feedback given at this meeting in the agenda item that will be presented next month.
2D: Authorizations to Teach Mathematics
Rebecca Parker, Consultant, and Teri Clark, Administrator, Professional Services Division, presented this item which provided: 1) information on the different documents that authorize an individual to teach mathematics; 2) data on the numbers of individuals earning credentials to teach mathematics; 3) the mathematics subject matter requirements; 4) passing rates of the CSET mathematics examination; 5) pedagogical preparation to teach mathematics; and 6) how students in the public schools are scoring on the standardized mathematics examinations.

Susan Westbrook, California Federation of Teachers, noted concerns with the level of mathematics preparation in the Multiple Subject and Single Subject preparation programs and also regarding the CSET: Multiple Subjects examination.

The Commission directed staff to do the following: 1) combine questions 1, 3 and 5 on page 2D-18 around the issue of teacher preparation; 2) combine questions 4 and 6 on pages 2D-18-19; 3) include data on the California High School Exit Exam; 4) survey states on the grade level of their credentials; and 5) include questions on the impact of out of field teaching on the profession.
