Program Approval

Introduction

This agenda item presents one single subject matter program submitted by an institution of higher education for approval.

Background

The Commission regularly receives recommendations for program approval from single subject matter review panels. These panels of subject matter experts review all program documentation and make an informed determination whether the program meets the standards common to all subject matter programs and also the content specific subject matter standards. The content specific subject matter standards are closely aligned to the K-12 academic content standards. These subject matter programs are usually undergraduate courses of study completed before candidates begin teacher preparation programs. However, the two programs may be completed concurrently.

Subject Matter Program Review Procedures

Following are the general procedures for the review of subject matter programs:

1. Technical Assistance – After the Commission adopts a set of new program standards, Commission staff members provide technical assistance to prospective program sponsors wishing to submit responses to the new standards. Technical assistance materials are provided on the Commission’s website. Staff members train, assign, and coordinate review team work.
2. Preconditions Review – After the program proposal is received, Commission staff review the sponsor’s response to the preconditions. The preconditions are based on both state laws and Commission policies, and address minimum unit and content area requirements. If the preconditions response is incomplete, the sponsor is requested to provide specific information necessary for compliance with the preconditions.
3. Program Review – The program sponsor’s responses to the Commission’s subject matter program standards are reviewed by a team of two or more subject matter educators to determine if the program meets the program standards, including the subject matter requirements (SMRs). The SMRs are the content knowledge required to be covered in the program and are aligned to the K-12 content standards that the candidate will be expected to know. The reviewers are trained in the alignment of the standards and subject matter requirements and in the review process before they are assigned proposals to review. Reviewers are instructed to find explicit evidence that programs not only align with K-12 content standards but also introduce their candidates to those standards within the context of their subject matter studies. The team must reach consensus that each standard is met based upon evidence provided in the document. If the program does not meet the standards, the sponsor is given an explanation of the findings. The sponsor may then submit the additional information requested. Once reviewers determine that the program proposal provides a convincing and adequate body of evidence to meet the Commission's adopted subject matter program standards, the program is recommended to the Commission for approval.

4. After subject matter program approval is granted by the Commission, the institution may admit candidates to the approved subject matter program. Graduates of a Commission approved single subject matter preparation program meet the Commission's subject matter requirement and are not required to take the subject matter examination (California Subject Examinations for Teachers).

This report presents one single subject matter program that has been deemed to have met all of the appropriate Standards of Quality and Effectiveness for Single Subject Matter Preparation Programs (www.ctc.ca.gov/educator-prep/STDS-subject-matter.html) by appropriate review panels and is recommended to the Commission for approval. The program brought forward to the Commission for approval at this time is: University of La Verne: Physical Education.

Summary Information on the Proposed Single Subject Matter Program

University of La Verne: Physical Education

The Movement and Sports Science Education Program at the University of La Verne prepares students to be physically educated individuals/teachers, by providing academically rigorous coursework. Courses initially establish a foundation of scientific principles in health and diverse population theories and then moves on to pedagogy and advanced research principles in the discipline. Courses are designed and assessed on the California Model Content Standards of Physical Education and NASPE (2008) beginning teaching standards for physical education teachers. Upon completion of the program, the candidates will have demonstrated knowledge and skills in the following areas:

1. Physiological and biomechanical concepts; motor learning and psychological/behavioral theory; and motor development theory and principles related to skillful movement, physical activity, and fitness.
2. Performance concepts related to skillful movement in a variety of physical activities with the ability to analyze and correct critical elements of motor skills and performance concepts.
3. Developing and implementing appropriate goals and objectives aligned with local, state, and /or national standards; and designing and implementing plans linked to program and instructional goals as well as a variety of student needs.
4. Designing and implementing progressive and sequential instruction that addresses the diverse needs of all students, adapting instruction for diverse student needs, and adding specific accommodations and/or modifications for student exceptionalities that are consistent with the belief that all students can become physically educated individuals.
5. Selecting or creating, and using appropriate assessments to measure student achievement of goals and objectives before, during, and after instruction, and then adjusting instructional tasks based on student responses and changing dynamics of the environment.

6. Utilizing verbal and non-verbal communication skills across a variety of instructional formats, including planning, and implementing learning experiences requiring students to use technology appropriately to meet lesson objectives.
7. Utilizing managerial rules, routines, and transitions that create and maintain a safe and effective learning environment and implementing strategies to help students demonstrate responsible personal and social behaviors in a productive learning environment.
8. Achieving and maintaining a health-enhancing level of fitness throughout the program, and demonstrating personal competence in motor skill performance for a variety of physical activities and movement patterns
9. Demonstrating behaviors that are consistent with the professional ethics of highly qualified teachers, participating in activities that enhance collaboration and lead to professional growth and development, and utilize the reflective cycle to implement changes in teacher performance, student learning, and/or instructional goals and decisions.

Recommendations

Based upon a determination by reviewers that the following entity has met all relevant standards and requirements, staff recommends Commission approval of the following subject matter program: University of La Verne: Physical Education.
