Program Approval

Introduction

This agenda item presents one single subject matter program submitted by an institution of higher education for approval.

Background

The Commission regularly receives recommendations for program approval from single subject matter review panels. These panels of subject matter experts review all program documentation and make an informed determination whether the program meets the standards common to all subject matter programs and also the content specific subject matter standards. The content specific subject matter standards are closely aligned to the K-12 academic content standards. These subject matter programs are usually undergraduate courses of study completed before candidates begin teacher preparation programs. However, the two programs may be completed concurrently.

Subject Matter Program Review Procedures

Following are the general procedures for the review of subject matter programs:

1. Technical Assistance – After the Commission adopts a set of new program standards, Commission staff members provide technical assistance to prospective program sponsors wishing to submit responses to the new standards. Technical assistance materials are provided on the Commission’s website. Staff members train, assign, and coordinate review team work.
2. Preconditions Review – After the program proposal is received, Commission staff review the sponsor’s response to the preconditions. The preconditions are based on both state laws and Commission policies, and address minimum unit and content area requirements. If the preconditions response is incomplete, the sponsor is requested to provide specific information necessary for compliance with the preconditions.
3. Program Review – The program sponsor’s responses to the Commission’s subject matter program standards are reviewed by a team of two or more subject matter educators to determine if the program meets the program standards, including the subject matter requirements (SMRs). The SMRs are the content knowledge required to be covered in the program and are aligned to the K-12 content standards that the candidate will be expected to know. The reviewers are trained in the alignment of the standards and subject matter requirements and in the review process before they are assigned proposals to review. Reviewers are instructed to find explicit evidence that programs not only align with K-12 content standards but also introduce their candidates to those standards within the context of their subject matter studies. The team must reach consensus that each standard is met based upon evidence provided in the document. If the program does not meet the standards, the sponsor is given an explanation of the findings. The sponsor may then submit the additional information requested. Once reviewers determine that the program proposal provides a convincing and adequate body of evidence to meet the Commission's adopted subject matter program standards, the program is recommended to the Commission for approval.

4. After subject matter program approval is granted by the Commission, the institution may admit candidates to the approved subject matter program. Graduates of a Commission approved single subject matter preparation program meet the Commission's subject matter requirement and are not required to take the subject matter examination (California Subject Examinations for Teachers).

This report presents one single subject matter program that has been deemed to have met all of the appropriate Standards of Quality and Effectiveness for Single Subject Matter Preparation Programs (www.ctc.ca.gov/educator-prep/STDS-subject-matter.html) by appropriate review panels and is recommended to the Commission for approval. The program brought forward to the Commission for approval at this time is California Baptist University's Single Subject Matter Social Science.

Summary Information on the Proposed Single Subject Matter Program

California Baptist University Single Subject Matter Social Science

California Baptist University's Single Subject Matter Program for Social Science will be offered to students in the undergraduate program through the history department. The California Baptist University Single Subject Social Sciences/History program will develop competency in eight key areas - World History, United States History, California History, Principles of American Democracy, Principles of Economics, Principles of Geography, and Historical research and writing. Enrichment and complexity will be provided through the extended studies in World History and United States History. Candidates will be equipped with the content area knowledge to teach Social Science/History in 7-12 classrooms. After completing the bachelor's degree in history with the single subject program, candidates will be ready to enroll in the credentialing program at the university. In addition to mastering the content, candidates will be expected to extend their understanding of the content through the application of argumentation and evidence-based analyses.

Candidates in the Social Science/History Single Subject Program will fulfill the requirements for the major in history, but with more prescribed coursework to ensure the depth and breadth of the study that includes content addressed in 7-12 courses in California schools. From introductory to the extended study, candidates will engage in in-depth analysis. Candidates will complete a large complement of upper division courses that have been specifically designed to develop their higher order thinking skills relative to the topic. Additionally, a new course in social science/history pedagogy will engage candidates in the use of the California framework and content standards to create meaningful lessons. This course serves to prepare students for the rigorous methods coursework they will engage in once they have entered a credential program.

The summative assessment tool is the capstone portfolio completed under the direction of the faculty supervisor in the content area as part of a three unit course taken in the students' last year of the program. The portfolio includes a research paper, integration statement, and sample work from prior courses documenting the candidate's progress as a scholar and a writer over the course of the program. Portfolios will be submitted to the single subject coordinator in the content area who reviews each portfolio and makes recommendations for the assessment of the candidate and the achievement of the learning outcomes.
