Section I. Forward to the Administrative Services Credential Program Standards

Introduction
At the dawn of the 21st century, the demand for high quality school leaders has never been greater. And with such demands, come new roles, responsibilities, and performance expectations. The imperative for high quality school leaders has been stimulated by the broader national education reform agenda and by recent research regarding the centrality of effective leadership in the development and support of powerful teaching and learning in schools. In a study conducted by the Wallace Foundation researchers stated, “To date we have not found a single case of a school improving its student achievement record in the absence of talented leadership.” Moreover, they noted that effective leadership is second in importance only to effective teaching among the many school variables that impact student achievement.

As the conditions and contexts of California’s public schools and the needs of its children continue to change, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing has worked to refine and revise the standards used to guide preliminary and clear administrative licensure processes and requirements and to ensure that they reflect current research about effective leadership in schools while keeping pace with the highly complex and diverse needs of California schools and the children served by them.

With the implementation of the 2013-14 Administrative Services Credential Program Standards, the Commission embarks upon a new era in the preparation of California's educational leaders. The primary focus of the preliminary administrative services program will be to prepare future leaders for their initial administrative position, with special emphasis on preparation for the position of site administrator, or principal, for a specific school site, while the clear credential program will be focused on job-embedded, real-life experiences of educational leaders. The heart of the clear credential program is a coaching-based professional induction process contextualized for whatever job the administrator currently holds while continuing to develop candidates for future leadership positions. This new structure is designed to provide the best career preparation and experiences for effective leadership in California's 21st century schools.

The Learning to Teach and Learning to Lead Continuums
Conceptually, the cultivation of high quality leadership begins in the classroom and proceeds along a continuum of professional activities and experiences that also includes initial preparation, performance assessments, professional induction, and ongoing professional development. The 2013-14 Administrative Services Credential Program Standards are designed to illuminate and facilitate a candidate’s progression along the professional pathway from classroom teacher to practicing administrator through aligned and developmentally progressive learning activities and experiences. Figures 1 and 2 on the next pages illustrate the Learning to Teach and the Learning to Lead continuums, two halves of California's educator continuum.

Administrative Services Credentials Program Handbook
Revised June 2014
Specifically, this new structure identifies a continuum of learning for the educational administrator - the Learning to Lead system. The Learning to Lead system begins with five years of credentialed experience in public schools, and continues through identification of leadership potential, enrollment in a preparation program, participation in an induction program during the first two years of employment, and ongoing learning throughout an administrative career. It provides for structure, support, and professional development for each successive stage, with partnerships between employers and preparation programs.

Learning to Lead provides a coherent, comprehensive, and robust system of professional preparation and development that will cultivate and support school leaders who can facilitate powerful instruction for all students and ongoing school improvement through effective management practices, a commitment to social justice and equity, ethical behavior, professional courage, and personal integrity. These and other key elements of effective leadership are further described within the following preliminary and clear administrative service credential standards. These elements also run throughout each of the standards and are particularly important leadership activators that can stimulate the conditions necessary for vibrant and effective public schools where all children can succeed.

Through the Learning to Lead system, the CTC will support the preparation of high quality school leaders who possess the knowledge, skills, and dispositions needed to lead California’s public schools into the 21st century with a clear vision and a commitment to excellence.

The Role of Performance Expectations and the California Professional Standards for Educational Leaders

The California Professional Standards for Education Leaders (CPSEL) identify what an administrator must know and be able to do in order to move into sustainable, effective practice. They are a set of broad policy standards that are the foundation for administrator preparation, induction, development, professional learning and evaluation in California. Taken together, the CPSEL describe critical areas of leadership for administrators and offer a structure for developing and supporting education leaders throughout their careers.

CPSEL have been a part of the California’s education leader preparation continuum since 2001, becoming an integral part of administrator preparation programs and the assessment of administrator candidates. In 2004, the CPSEL were adopted as part of the standards-based program for the Administrative Services Clear Credential, introducing a common language to be used in the discussion of administrative tasks and responsibilities.

Embedded in the 2014 Administrative Services Credential Clear Induction Program Standards are the 2014 updated CPSEL. Retaining their former structure, the 2014 CPSEL reflect changes in the education administrator’s job responsibilities over the last decade and introduce example indicators of practice that aid in understanding each standard in day-to-day school life. A companion booklet to these standards, the 2014 CPSEL, includes these three levels can be found on the CTC website.

In 2012 the Educator Excellence Task Force, a joint effort by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction issued a report entitled Greatness by Design. Among its many recommendations, the Task Force called for the need to clarify the competencies beginning administrators--and their mentors--should be expected to acquire. As a result, the 2013 Preliminary Administrative Services credential program standards introduce the California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPE) that describe the set of knowledge, skills and abilities that beginning education administrators should have and be able to demonstrate. Aligned to the more sophisticated and complex CPSEL, the CAPE describe a foundation level of knowledge, skills and abilities targeted to a candidate preparing for their first administrative position that also prepares the candidate for ongoing/future learning in the CPSEL themselves. The alignment of the CAPE and CPSEL within the ASC program structure is illustrated in Figure 3

Together, these new components of educational leadership preparation--content expectations, performance expectations, targeted preparation, individualized support, ongoing professional learning, and standards-based assessments--provide a coherent system of development that promise to prepare, support and make stellar California’s next decade of administrators, leaders who have a deep personal commitment to high expectations for their work that is informed by professional standards.³

Section III. The Preliminary Administrative Services Credential Program

Introduction

In California, the overwhelming majority of education administrators begin their careers in some kind of leadership position at a local school. Additionally, research studies during the last two decades have shown that school leadership plays a pivotal role in improving the quality of education, resulting in higher student achievement scores.\(^4\) Therefore, the determination was made to focus the state's preliminary preparation program on preparing a candidate to assume leadership at a school site.

While both the preliminary and clear programs continue to be framed around California's Professional Standards for Education Leaders (CPSEL), the preliminary standards introduce a new structure for preliminary programs, the Content Expectations and the Performance Expectations. In support of preparing candidates for school site leadership, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing has identified what administrators should know and be able to do on the first day of their initial education administrator position. These expectations are to be interwoven into the candidate's coursework and fieldwork and the responsibility of the program to ensure each candidate has the opportunity to demonstrate their mastery of them through a variety of assessments throughout their preparation program. Only upon successful demonstration of these expectations will a candidate be recommended for a preliminary ASC credential and move on to the clear induction program and the related, but more complex, CPSEL.

Underscoring the need to practice administrative skills, the 2013 Administrative Services Credential Preliminary standards require institutions to prepare future administrators through traditional coursework that is enhanced by quality day-to-day fieldwork, with assignments and experiences that reflect the responsibilities of today's school leadership and the program's coursework. By serving in today's schools, in positions where candidates are asked to recall and apply the knowledge and skills being learned in their preparatory program courses, the candidates become better prepared to address 21st century administrative job responsibilities.

Finally, these standards also acknowledge the healthy, robust partnerships that must exist between program sponsors and the schools, districts, and county offices they serve. Regular communication is required with the goal of both institutions understanding the mission and goals of their partners. More than being advised of program structures and activities, the partnerships discuss program design, candidate assignments and best practices that will provide quality learning opportunities. It is only through joint collaborative efforts that candidates will be provided with quality fieldwork that brings day-to-day relevance to corresponding coursework.

Standards of Quality and Effectiveness: Preliminary Administrative Services Credential Program Standards
(Adopted December 2013)

Category I: Program Design and Coordination

Program Standard 1: Program Design and Rationale
The administrative services preparation program prepares instructional leaders to serve effectively in a variety of public schools and school districts. The design of the program is based on a sound rationale informed by theory and research and aligned with the California Administrator Performance Expectations and principles of adult learning theory. The program includes a coherent, developmental, integrated, and interrelated set of theoretical and practical learning experiences designed to provide extensive opportunities to engage candidates in developing knowledge, skills, and dispositions to advance teaching and learning. The program includes both formative and summative assessments based on the California Administrator Performance Expectations (CAPE).

Program Standard 2: Collaboration, Communication and Coordination
Each sponsor of an administrative services preparation program establishes one or more partnerships that contribute substantively to the design, implementation, quality and effectiveness of the program. Partnership agreements are collaboratively established with each partner and clearly define roles and expectations of all partners sharing the responsibility for the implementation and success of the program. Partners, such as advisory committees, school districts that facilitate field experiences, higher education institutions, community organizations, and other stakeholder groups establish productive working relationships, coordinate joint efforts, and communicate regularly and openly. Partners share responsibility for program quality; candidate recruitment, selection, and advisement; curriculum development; delivery of instruction; selection of field sites; design of field experiences; selection and preparation of field experience supervisors, and assessment and verification of candidate competence.

Program Standard 3: Development of Professional Leadership Perspectives
By design, the administrative services preparation program facilitates each candidate’s development of a professional leadership perspective through learning activities that promote leadership and interpersonal skills. The program curriculum and pedagogies are designed to engage candidates in learning activities that require the ability to diagnose the causes of organizational problems at both macro and micro-organizational levels (e.g., system-wide and individual). The program provides multiple opportunities for candidates to apply skills of reasoned and objective inquiry to analyze complex problems and propose effective solutions considering the political context and its implications. In addition, the program ensures candidates understand environmental contexts, organizational culture, intra-organizational systems, and their influence on human behavior and educational outcomes. Finally, the program builds leadership perspective through learning activities that expose candidates to the both the internal and external influences, relationships, resources, and opportunities that can engender and support the vision and mission of the school and district.

Program Standard 4: Equity, Diversity and Access
By design, the administrative services preparation program provides each candidate with an opportunity to understand and apply theories and principles of educational equity within the educational context, for the purposes of creating more socially just learning environments. Through coursework and fieldwork, candidates (a) examine their personal attitudes related to issues of privilege and power in different domains including race, gender, language, sexual orientation, religion, ableness, and socio-economic status; (b) learn ways to analyze, monitor, and address these issues at the individual and system level; (c) understand how explicit and implicit racial bias impacts instruction, classroom management, and other school policies; and (d) come to understand the role of the leader in creating equitable outcomes in schools. The program provides opportunities for candidates to learn how to identify, analyze and minimize personal bias, how policies and historical practices create and maintain institutional bias, and how leaders can address and monitor institutional-level inequity.

The program prepares candidates to improve schooling for all students with an emphasis on vulnerable and historically underserved students by examining teaching, learning, student engagement, student discipline, school culture, family involvement, and other programmatic supports in the school for the purposes of providing effective instruction and equitable access for all students. The program ensures candidates understand pedagogical approaches that recognize the importance of building on students' strengths and assets as a foundation for supporting all students, especially historically underserved students including English learners and students with special needs.

Program Standard 5: Role of Schooling in a Democratic Society
By design, the administrative services preparation program provides each candidate with an opportunity to critically examine the principles of democratic education and the responsibilities of citizenship. This includes the moral imperative to provide all students with the best possible education. The program prepares each candidate to understand the role of the school in preparing K-12 students to actively and productively engage in civic responsibility and to identify and critically analyze the variety of ideas and forces in society that contribute to (or constrain) a democratic society. The program includes opportunities for candidates to learn how historical and philosophical influences, state and federal policy decisions, and prevailing educational practices impact schooling. The program prepares candidates to understand the administrator’s responsibility to develop and nurture public support, family participation, and community engagement. In addition, the program prepares administrators to establish civility through an organizational culture that promotes constructive problem solving, conflict resolution strategies, and application of ethical behaviors.

Category II: Curriculum

Program Standard 6: Visionary Leadership
The administrative services preparation program helps the candidate develop an actionable and sustainable vision of teaching and learning that is responsive to the changing context of a given school and local education agency, including the ability to lead others in collaboratively developing, implementing, and evaluating the vision. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on visionary leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.

Program Standard 7: Instructional Leadership
The administrative service preparation program addresses the candidate’s knowledge of California student academic content and curriculum standards, research-based instructional and assessment practices, and the candidate’s ability to assess classroom instruction and provide focused, constructive feedback to teachers. The program develops candidates’ knowledge of how to integrate creativity, collaboration, communication and critical thinking skills with the content standards. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on instructional leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.
Program Standard 8: School Improvement Leadership
The administrative services preparation program aids the candidate in selecting and using data to identify what is working, diagnosing needs, and identifying opportunities for growth and change. The program develops the candidate's knowledge about how to strategically implement appropriate and effective school improvement theories and strategies. The program increases the candidate’s capacity to communicate and lead others in continuous improvement and monitoring of these efforts based on student and school outcomes. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on school improvement leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.

Program Standard 9: Professional Learning and Growth Leadership
The administrative services preparation program addresses the candidate’s ability to model professional growth, framed around principles of adult learning, and identify and facilitate focused developmentally appropriate professional growth opportunities to build individual and collective capacity. These capacities include collaborating with others to help achieve the school’s vision through professional learning focused on improving teaching and learning. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on professional growth leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.

Program Standard 10: Organizational and Systems Leadership
The administrative services preparation program addresses the candidate’s ability to understand, align, effectively manage, and integrate all the organizational structures, processes, and policies of a school system that impact the school’s ability to achieve its vision and goals. These skills include an understanding of the regulatory and legal contexts involved with the management of human, fiscal and material resources. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on organizational and systems leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.

Program Standard 11: Community Leadership
The administrative services preparation program addresses the candidate’s ability to advocate for the school and to communicate through a variety of media its successes, needs, and challenges with a broad range of audiences, collaborating with parents, the community, and others in achieving the school’s vision and goals. The program provides multiple opportunities for each candidate to learn, practice, and reflect on community leadership as further defined in the adopted Content Expectations and Performance Expectations.

Category III: Field Experiences in the Program

Program Standard 12: Nature of Field Experiences
In the administrative services preparation program, candidates participate in practical field experiences that are designed to facilitate the application of theoretical concepts in authentic settings. Each candidate is introduced to the major duties and responsibilities authorized by the administrative services credential as articulated in the Performance Expectations. Field experiences include a variety of diverse and realistic settings both in the day-to-day functions of administrators and in long-term policy design and implementation.

Program Standard 13: Guidance, Assistance and Feedback
The administrative services preparation program sponsor has an effective system by which the candidate’s performance is guided, assisted, and evaluated in each field experience. In this system, at least one field/clinical supervisor and at least one program supervisor provide complete, accurate, and timely feedback to the candidate, including constructive suggestions for improvement.
Category IV: Candidate Competence and Performance

Program Standard 14: Assessment of Candidate Performance
Prior to recommending each candidate for a Preliminary Administrative Services Credential, the program determines on the basis of thoroughly documented evidence that each candidate has demonstrated a satisfactory knowledge and understanding of the California Administrator Content Expectations and satisfactory performance on the full range of California Administrator Performance Expectations below. A representative of the program sponsor and at least one field/clinical supervisor provides the verification of candidate competence and performance. When available, a Commission-approved Administrator Performance Assessment may be used to satisfy this requirement. Satisfactory performance is defined as achieving competence as expected for entry-level administrators. During the program, candidates are guided and coached on their performance using formative assessment processes.

Section IV. Clear Induction Program Standards

Introduction to the Clear Induction Program Standards

With the adoption of the 2014 Clear Induction program standards, California joins numerous other states by requiring an induction experience as part of the credentialing of its educational leaders, providing a "strategy for novice principals that not only…supports individual transition and growth but also…enables the district to validate the quality of novice school principals. When novice [administrators] are able to improve and broaden their portfolio of skills, they are on a path to make a difference, stay in the job, and become highly accomplished leaders who use their expertise to effect successful teaching and learning."5

What is Induction?

During induction, Commission-approved providers shape professional learning to focus upon candidates' leadership performance--on-the-job, in real-time, and contextualized to the candidate's unique school, district, and community circumstances. This job-embedded professional development replaces a more traditional approach where learning is more theoretical and occurs in the college classroom. Induction shapes candidates' growth and attainment of leadership outcomes and must adapt to the varied needs of candidates, to respond to new research-based practices, and to respond to the evolving 21st century expectations of schools to prepare students for success beyond K-12. Figure 4, on the next page, provides a flowchart of California's induction program as outlined by the program standards, with an accompanying description of the three required components of coaching, professional learning and assessment.

The central structure of induction is the coaching experience. A qualified, trained coach is assigned to each candidate for the first two years of his/her administrative career. Selected for skills and interest in fostering today's educational leaders, coaches receive specialized training that equips them to work collaboratively with candidates and district leaders to develop professional practice. Together, they gather and examine data, set goals for leadership performance, develop candidate competence, engage in formative assessment, and evaluate both attainment of the identified goals and the candidate's demonstration of leadership.

Professional learning provides additional opportunities to learn and grow while networking with colleagues. Professional development sessions may address common leadership themes pertinent to beginning administrators, but is also responsive to the needs of each candidate and individualized work targeted in the California Professional Standards for Education Leaders (CPSEL). Novice administrators benefit from opportunities to practice pertinent skills while learning alongside other induction candidates who provide support, celebrate success, and collaboratively engage in learning.

While the preliminary program uses the California Administrative Content Expectations and the California Administrative Performance Expectations (CAPE), based upon the CPSEL, California's induction program directly uses the CPSEL as a uniform guide for what a candidate should know and be able to do. Formative assessment activities built around the CPSEL assists the candidate in identifying growth areas, anticipating, planning and implementing leadership experiences, and then reflecting upon those experiences in order to grow professionally. The CPSEL also frame measurements that indicate whether/when a candidate has met requirements and can be recommended for a clear administrative services credential.

California's induction programs provide the bridge between knowing the research, skills, and policies behind effective educational administration and leadership performance in an education community focused on continuous growth and student achievement. Recommendation for the Clear Administrative Services credential validates that the candidate has successfully crossed this bridge.
Section V. Standards of Quality and Effectiveness: Administrative Services Credential Clear Induction Program Standards
(Adopted February 2014)

Category I: Program Design and Coordination

Program Standard 1: Program Design and Rationale
Induction is the support and guidance provided to novice educators in the early stages of their careers. California’s Administrator Induction is an individualized, job-embedded, two-year program, with enrollment and initiation of coaching within 120 days of starting an initial administrative position. The design of the program is based on a sound rationale informed by theory and research, is primarily coaching-based, and includes personalized learning. Professional learning may be offered through formal and informal partnerships, complements and integrates school and/or district goals, and employs competency indicators that support a recommendation for the clear credential. The program design provides multiple opportunities for candidates to demonstrate growth and competence in the California Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (CPSEL) outlined in Standard 5.

The design of the program allows for enrollment within 120 days of starting an initial administrative position. Upon program completion, the Induction program sponsor certifies a candidate’s ability to demonstrate the administrative and operational knowledge, skills and dispositions needed to effectively lead, manage, and improve educational organizations. Assessment of candidate competence is grounded in the proficiencies expressed in Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards.

Program Standard 2: Program Collaboration, Communication, and Coordination
The induction program formally collaborates with education organizations through partnership agreements to establish a professional education community structure that facilitates and supports induction activities. Each partner’s contributions to the design and implementation of candidate preparation and certification are outlined through mutual contract/agreement. Induction programs maintain communication on a regular basis with their partners to ensure that each candidate builds a coherent individualized learning program.

The induction program identifies the individual responsible for program coordination, key personnel involved in program implementation, and the reporting relationships between the identified personnel. Program coordination includes admission, advisement, participant support and assessment, coach preparation, and program evaluation.

The induction program individualizes professional learning opportunities for each candidate and includes program, employer, partner and high quality professional learning approved by the provider, in support of Standard 5 outcomes. The program regularly assesses the quality of their professional learning offerings using criteria that includes participant feedback and direct observation of offerings. The program leaders provide formative feedback to professional learning providers on their work.

Program Standard 3: Selection and Training of Coaches
The induction program selects, prepares, assigns, supports, and supervises coaches, using well-defined criteria. Coaches receive initial training prior to being assigned to a candidate. Initial training includes the development of knowledge and skills of: coaching, goal setting, use of appropriate coaching instruments, and processes of formative and summative assessment designed to support candidate growth in the leadership competencies outlined in Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards.

6 Standard 4 further clarifies this timeline to be 120 days for candidate enrollment, followed by 30 days in which coaching must commence.

The program provides ongoing training to refine coaching skills, engage in ongoing professional learning in current educational trends, research and policy changes. The program provides ongoing support for individual coaching challenges, reflection on coaching practice, and opportunities for networking with coaching peers. The program identifies and assigns one of its coaches to each candidate within the first 30 days of the candidate’s admission to the program, matching the coach and candidate according to defined criteria. Clear procedures are in place for reassignment of coaches, if the candidate/coach pairing is not effective.

The program regularly assesses the quality of services provided by coaches to candidates, using criteria including participant feedback, direct observation of coaching, growth of candidate on established criteria, and compliance with program requirements. Induction program leaders provide formative feedback to coaches on their work.

Category II: The Nature of Induction

Program Standard 4: Professional Learning

The induction program is a composite of the key intersecting elements of individualized coaching, professional learning opportunities, and assessment of skills, dependent upon the identified needs of each candidate, and chronicled on a common document, the individual induction plan (IIP). The induction experience is informed by ongoing assessment and is cyclical in nature. Components include initial assessment, goal setting, a plan that incorporates coaching and professional learning opportunities, ongoing formative assessment and reflection, benchmark and summative assessment and reflects a minimum of 60 clock hours and a maximum of 90 clock hours annually.

Section A. The Individual Induction Plan (IIP)

The program provides candidates and coaches opportunities to collaboratively develop professional performance goals as part of an annual Individual Induction Plan (IIP) that is grounded in the outcomes of Standard 5 and considers both employer priorities and individual job responsibilities. The IIP serves as the blueprint for the full induction experience, outlining the components of the program that will enable the candidate to meet or exceed established performance goals. In accordance with Education Code 44270.1(a)(3), the IIP identifies individual needs, based on the candidate’s assignment and prior professional experiences, including the assessment that occurs at the end of the preliminary program, if available. The program ensures that the IIP identifies specific performance outcomes and data to be collected to certify demonstration of candidate proficiency in the areas of leadership articulated in Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards. The IIP is a working document, periodically revisited for reflection and revision. The IIP supports both the coaching and professional learning aspects of the induction program.

Section B. Coaching

The program implements a research-based coaching model, with a sound rationale, that meets the individual needs of beginning administrators. Coaching is a process and service that is individualized for each candidate, with a common focus of developing leadership competency rather than completion of hours.

The coaching based induction program provides a minimum of forty hours of job-embedded coaching activities, including site visits, face-to-face meetings, and electronic conversation (e.g. telephone, computer applications) to support the development of leadership competences in response to the complexity of the candidate's administrative position, experience, background, and IIP goals. In order to provide each candidate with the coaching service needed to attain program outcomes, additional coaching hours may be required. Coaching is regular, consistent, and ongoing throughout each year of the two-year program. Coaching is enhanced with technology supports, however it should be primarily in person and at the site.

The coaching process is one that requires confidential coach-candidate collaboration in self-assessment; investigation and data gathering regarding the circumstances and environment in which the candidate is embedded, and identification of candidate’s experience, prior knowledge, and needs; goal setting, that intertwines job-embedded leadership performance with Category III, Standard 5 program outcomes; action planning to guide attainment of goals but which also identifies opportunities for both candidate growth and demonstration of program outcomes; observation and data gathering regarding learning, impact, and leadership performance; ongoing facilitated reflection, formative assessment, adaptation, anticipation, and development of leadership competence; and documentation of growth and attainment of Category III, Standard 5 program outcomes.

Section C. Professional Development
The program provides professional development offerings (a minimum of 20-30 clock hours annually) addressing needs common to all beginning educational administrators as well as provides differentiated learning opportunities as outlined in the candidates’ IIP. It includes reflection on current practice, direct instruction in research-based best practices, modeling, problem-based practice, and opportunities for planning and adaptation to current leadership responsibilities. Professional development provides opportunities for candidates to develop professional networks that share best practices and challenges and garner collegial support. All professional development is designed to support the application and demonstration of program competency outcomes articulated in Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards, and the attainment of the candidate’s IIP goals.

Section D. Assessment
The induction program develops assessments to measure candidate competence and take into account the highly variable nature of administrative responsibilities. Assessment tools such as rubric based scales, are based on outcomes from Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards, identified by the program to measure leadership performance, and used to determine candidate growth and competence. Initial, formative, and summative assessments are collaborative, based on data gathered by the candidate, coach, and program.

The initial induction assessment is designed to measure a candidate’s entry-level competence in each of the program-selected outcomes from Standard 5 of the Administrative Services Credential Induction Program Standards as baseline information that can be compared in future assessments to determine the candidate’s growth over time and overall competency. The initial assessment is informed by multiple measures.

Formative assessment supports and informs candidates about their professional performance and growth as they reflect and improve upon their practice as part of a cycle of inquiry and continuous improvement. The formative assessment process engages the candidate in gathering evidence about his/her own leadership practice, promotes reflection, documents candidate learning and leadership impact, and identifies next steps in pursuit of IIP goals. It utilizes multiple measures such as self-assessment, observation, and analyses of leadership performance.
The program conducts a benchmark assessment midway through the program. This evaluates the candidate’s progress toward demonstration of competence. The results of the benchmark assessment are reviewed with the candidate and recorded by the program, with prompt goal and/or IIP revisions, if necessary.

Prior to recommending each candidate for a Clear Administrative Services Credential, the program determines that each candidate has reached a level of competence meriting possession of a Clear Administrative Services Credential. This determination is based on a review of observed and documented evidence, collaboratively assembled by coach and candidate. This summative review includes a defensible process, an appeal process, and a procedure for candidates to repeat portions of the program as needed. The induction program sponsor and the coach verify that the candidate has met competency expectations for performance as outlined in Standard 5 of the Administrative Induction Program standards.

Section VI: Transition Plans and Initial Program Review

When new program standards are adopted, the Commission also determines whether those credential programs already approved and operating will be allowed to undergo a transition process to the new standards or have to take part in Initial Program Review. Typically, this decision is based upon the extent to which the new standards differ from the previous standards. The chart below indicates the required process for currently approved Administrative Services Credential programs.

Transition Process for Currently Approved Preliminary and Clear Guidelines Based Programs

For both Preliminary Administrative Services Programs and Guidelines Based Professional Clear programs that have been approved prior to the adoption of the new (2013 and 2014) program standards, information on the transition process will be provided in the form of a Program Sponsor Alert (PSA) and posted on the Commission’s website.

Initial Program Review Process

All prospective Administrative Services Programs (Preliminary and Induction credential programs) as well as those Professional Clear Standards Based Administrative Services programs approved prior to adoption of the new 2014 standards that wish to offer a Clear Induction Administrative Services credential program will need to participate in Initial Program Review (IPR). To facilitate the review and approval process, Commission staff has detailed instructions on the Initial Program Review website. This website includes information on Submitting a Proposal for an Educator Preparation Program in California. It is essential that these instructions be followed accurately including Submission Guidelines, Document Formatting and Transmission Requirements. Failure to comply with these procedures can result in a proposal being returned to the prospective program sponsor for completion, reformatting and/or revision prior to being forwarded to program reviewers. As outlined in the guidelines, the program sponsor should first notify CTC of their intent to submit a new program and the anticipated date of their submittal. Additional information including expected timelines will be available in a Program Sponsor Alert posted on the Commission’s website.

This process involves a cost recovery fee in accordance with state regulations outlined in Program Sponsor Alert 13-11. Please review this PSA prior to submitting the document for review.
