Subject: Multiple Subjects Assessment for Teachers (MSAT)
January 23, 1993 Special Administration

On June 5, 1992, the Commission adopted the Multiple Subjects Assessment for Teachers (MSAT) for evaluating the subject matter competence of applicants for the Multiple Subject Teaching Credential. Beginning with the October 1992 administration of the NTE, the MSAT replaces the General Knowledge Test of the NTE Core Battery.

In addition to the three scheduled dates for the MSAT administration, October 24, 1992, March 6, 1993, and June 12 1993, ETS is offering a special administration of the MSAT on January 23, 1993.

On the reverse of this correspondence is a chart which contains the names and phone numbers of institutions that will be offering this special administration. Candidates should call one of these institutions to obtain registration information. The deadline for registering for the special administration is January 4.

Information about costs and a description of the MSAT are available in the NTE Bulletin of Information and in the Multiple Subjects Assessment for Teachers descriptive leaflet.
