Proposed Amendments and Deletions to 5 California Code of Regulations Pertaining to the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and Leadership Specialist Credential

Introduction
The amendments and deletions to 5 California Code of Regulations pertaining to the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and Leadership Specialist Credential are presented for public hearing.

Background
In April 2008, the Commission directed staff to convene a panel of reading instruction specialists, from both the Pre-K and educator preparation communities, to review the current Reading Certificate and Reading and Language Arts Specialist Credential Program Standards. These standards were last updated in August 1999 and were aligned with the previous Multiple and Single Subject Teacher Preparation Program Standard 7, the 1997 K-12 English–Language Arts Content Standards, and the draft 1999 K-12 Reading/Language Arts Framework. These documents have been superseded by the recently adopted Multiple and Single Subject Teacher Preparation Program Standards 7A, 7B, and 8B(d); the newly adopted Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA) (http://www.rica.nesinc.com/) content specifications; and the new K-12 Reading/Language Arts (RLA) Framework (2007).

The Reading Advisory Panel met from June 2008 through August 2010. Two updates of the panel’s progress were presented to the Commission at the October 2008 and April 2009 meetings. The Commission approved the revised and updated Standards of Program Quality and Effectiveness for the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and Reading and Literacy Leadership Specialist Credential in September 2010.

The panel intended that the revised standards create a clear continuum of knowledge, skills, and responsibilities beginning with the new beginning multiple subject teacher who passed the Reading Instruction Competence Assessment (RICA) to the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and finally to the Reading and Literacy Leadership Specialist Credential. Furthermore, panel members created standards that articulated the reciprocal roles among the skills of reading, speaking, listening, and writing and emphasized the importance of cultivating a culture of literacy in classrooms, schools, and districts, in which all activities of a school day, in all content areas, provide opportunities for students to practice using language by speaking, listening, reading, and writing.

Proposed Amendments and Deletions
Regulations for both the current Reading and Language Arts Specialist Credential and the Reading Certificate are proposed to be updated. For the Reading Certificate, the proposed regulations will:
1) change the title to Reading and Literacy Added Authorization,
2) add National Board Certification as a route to earn the authorization, and
3) update the requirements and authorization statement.

For the Reading Specialist Credential, the proposed regulations will:
1) change the title to Reading and Literacy Leadership Specialist Credential, and
2) update the requirements and authorization statement.

Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and Reading and Literacy Leadership Specialist Credential Program Standards (revised 3/11) http://www.ctc.ca.gov/educator-prep/standards/Reading-Specialist.pdf

The California Commission on Teacher Credentialing awards credentials and certificates on the basis of completion of programs that meet Standards for Educator Preparation and Educator Competence. For each type of professional credential in education, the Commission has developed and adopted standards which are based upon recent research and the expert advice of many professional educators. Each standard specifies a level of quality and effectiveness that the Commission requires from programs offering academic and professional preparation in education. There are different types of program standards.

Preconditions
Preconditions are requirements that must be met in order for an accrediting association or licensing agency to consider accrediting a program sponsor or approving its programs or schools. Some preconditions are based on state laws, while other preconditions are established by Commission policy. Preconditions can be found within each program's standard document.

Common Standards
The Common Standards deal with aspects of program quality that cross all approved educator preparation programs. The institution responds to each Common Standard by providing pertinent information, including information about individual programs. When a new program is proposed, the institution submits a Common Standards Addendum to address how the new program will integrate with the already approved programs.

Educator Preparation Program Standards
Program standards address aspects of program quality and effectiveness that apply to each type of educator preparation program offered by a program sponsor. Program standards contain statements describing the nature and purpose of each standard and language that details the requirements that all approved programs must meet. Program sponsors must meet all applicable program standards before the program application may be approved by the Commission.

   Comment: I hold a clear credential in this area. In my opinion, the new proposed new name does not compare. It is less specific and less distinguished. I completed a Masters program to become a READING SPECIALIST. I believe by dropping this specific word (specialist) from the title you are misrepresenting the credential.

   National Board Certification as a route to this credential? A masters degree in this SPECIFIC area of reading instruction is not obtained during a NBC program. Reading instruction is a science and should be authorized in situations where adequate training in READING INSTRUCTION has happened.

   I know teachers with NBC that do NOT know how to teach reading and should not be reading specialists!

   Thank you for allowing comments on this proposed change. I hope you leave the credential under it's current state.

   Commission Response: The proposed changes are for two currently issued reading documents. One is the Reading Certificate which is proposed to be renamed the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization and the other document is the Reading Specialist which is proposed to be renamed the Reading and Literacy Leadership Specialist Credential. The Commission is not proposing to remove the word ‘specialist’ from the specialist credential. National Board Certification is a route to earn the added authorization and is not a route for the specialist credential.
