Program Approval

---

Introduction

This agenda item presents one single subject matter program submitted by an institution of higher education for approval.

Background

The Commission regularly receives recommendations for program approval from single subject matter review panels. These panels of subject matter experts review all program documentation and make an informed determination whether the program meets the standards common to all subject matter programs and also the content specific subject matter standards. The content specific subject matter standards are closely aligned to the K-12 academic content standards. These subject matter programs are usually undergraduate courses of study completed before candidates begin teacher preparation programs. However, the two programs may be completed concurrently.

Subject Matter Program Review Procedures

Following are the general procedures for the review of subject matter programs:

1. Technical Assistance – After the Commission adopts a set of new program standards, Commission staff members provide technical assistance to prospective program sponsors wishing to submit responses to the new standards. Technical assistance materials are provided on the Commission’s website. Staff members train, assign, and coordinate review team work.
2. Preconditions Review – After the program proposal is received, Commission staff review the sponsor’s response to the preconditions. The preconditions are based on both state laws and Commission policies, and address minimum unit and content area requirements. If the preconditions response is incomplete, the sponsor is requested to provide specific information necessary for compliance with the preconditions.
3. Program Review – The program sponsor’s responses to the Commission’s subject matter program standards are reviewed by a team of two or more subject matter educators to determine if the program meets the program standards, including the subject matter requirements (SMRs). The SMRs are the content knowledge required to be covered in the program and are aligned to the K-12 content standards that the candidate will be expected to know. The reviewers are trained in the alignment of the standards and subject matter requirements and in the review process before they are assigned proposals to review. Reviewers are instructed to find explicit evidence that programs not only align with K-12 content standards but also introduce their candidates to those standards within the context of their subject matter studies. The team must reach consensus that each standard is met based upon evidence provided in the document. If the program does not meet the standards, the sponsor is given an explanation of the findings. The sponsor may then submit the additional information requested. Once reviewers determine that the program proposal provides a convincing and adequate body of evidence to meet the Commission’s adopted subject matter program standards, the program is recommended to the Commission for approval.

4. After subject matter program approval is granted by the Commission, the institution may admit candidates to the approved subject matter program. Graduates of a Commission approved single subject matter preparation program meet the Commission's subject matter requirement and are not required to take the subject matter examination (California Subject Examinations for Teachers).

This report presents one single subject matter program deemed to have met all of the appropriate Standards of Quality and Effectiveness for Single Subject Matter Preparation Programs (www.ctc.ca.gov/educator-prep/STDS-subject-matter.html) by appropriate review panels and is recommended to the Commission for approval. The program brought forward to the Commission for approval at this time is: California Lutheran University: Physical Education.

Summary Information on Single Subject Matter Programs

California Lutheran University: Physical Education

The Exercise Science Teaching/Pedagogy emphasis at California Lutheran University is designed to prepare students to teach physical education by providing them with an academically rigorous program which includes skill acquisition, a strong science foundation, and advanced principles in the discipline. The program conforms to the subject matter standards of the Commission on Teacher Credentialing, which are aligned with the Physical Education Model Content Standards for California Public Schools. In particular, students are exposed to the anatomical, biomechanical, neurological, physiological, and psychological aspects of human movement. The department emphasizes a “hands-on” approach to learning with clinical or laboratory experiences for many of its courses. The physical and natural sciences play a major role in the curriculum, with major coursework augmented by foundational courses in anatomy, physiology and exercise physiology, psychology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics. Upon completion of the program, the candidate will be able to demonstrate the following outcomes:

- Knowledge of past and present philosophies of physical education and their impact on the goals, scope, and components of physical education programs
- Understanding of current research, trends, and issues affecting physical education (inclusion, lifelong fitness, obesity, equity, disability, diversity, liability, risk, and safety)
- Knowledge of professional responsibilities, organizations, resources, and state and national standards
- Knowledge of human movement, growth, motor learning and development, fundamental motor skills, biomechanical and physiological principles
- Understanding of components of wellness and physical fitness
- Knowledge of the role of movement activities in society
- Knowledge of evaluation methods used for the various domains of learning
- Interpret and apply knowledge of the subdisciplines of kinesiology to facilitate skill acquisition and performance
- Use developmental information to appropriately select, adapt, and modify sports and games based on goals, skill levels, individual needs, and disabilities
- Knowledge of connections between physical education and other subject areas
