James Webb, Consultant, Professional Services Division, and Amy Reising, Chief Deputy Director, presented this item which provided considerations for teacher credential candidates simultaneously pursuing a general education Multiple Subject (MS) or Single Subject (SS) and Mild to Moderate Support Needs (MMSN) and/or Extensive Support Needs (ESN) credential or two Education Specialist credentials (MMSN and ESN). Staff also presented minor revisions to the Commission's TPA Assessment Design Standards to reflect a range of instructional settings and the full age span from birth to 22.

Commission Action

Commission Sloan moved to adopt the following staff recommendations:

1. A candidate seeking both a general education credential and an MMSN credential through a dual credential program would take and pass the MMSN TPA. This would require only one TPA in the specialist credential and would still allow for demonstration of the universal TPEs, as they are embedded in the newly adopted education specialist credentials.
2. A candidate seeking both a general education credential and an ESN credential would take and pass the ESN TPA. This would require only one TPA in the specialist credential and would still allow for demonstration of the universal TPEs, as they are embedded in the newly adopted education specialist credentials.
3. A candidate seeking three credentials: general education, MMSN, and an ESN credential would take and pass the ESN TPA. This would require only one TPA in the specialist credential and would still allow for demonstration of the universal TPEs, as they are embedded in the newly adopted education specialist credentials.
4. A candidate seeking both a MMSN and an ESN credential would take and pass the ESN TPA. This would require only one TPA, would still allow for demonstration of the universal TPEs, as they are embedded in the newly adopted education specialist credentials and would require demonstration of the specialized ESN pedagogy.
5. Minor revisions to the Assessment Design Standards for 1(c), 1(d), and 1(i):
  - 1(c) Consistent with the language of the TPEs, the model sponsor defines scoring rubrics so candidates for credentials can earn acceptable scores on the Teaching Performance Assessment with the use of different content-specific pedagogical practices that support implementation of the birth-age 22 content standards and curriculum frameworks. The model sponsor takes steps to plan and anticipate the appropriate scoring of candidates who use a wide range of pedagogical practices that are educationally effective and builds scoring protocols to take these variations into account.
  - 1(d) The model sponsor must include within the design of the TPA candidate tasks a focus on addressing the teaching of English learners, all underserved education

- groups or groups that need to be served differently, and students with disabilities to adequately assess the candidate's ability to effectively teach all students.
- 1(i) The model sponsor provides a clear statement acknowledging the intended uses of the assessment. The statement demonstrates the model sponsor's clear understanding of the implications of the assessment for candidates, preparation programs, the public schools, and birth-age 22 students. The statement includes appropriate cautions about additional or alternative uses for which the assessment is not valid. All elements of assessment design and development are consistent with the intended uses of the assessment for determining the pedagogical competence of candidates for Preliminary Teaching Credentials in California and as information useful for determining program quality and effectiveness.

Commissioner Jackson seconded the motion. The motion carried without dissent. Commissioner de la Torre was not present during the roll call vote.
