

Transition Plan and Individualized Induction Plan

The Individualized Teacher Preparation Plan (ITPP) has been part of the requirements for the holder of a Level I Education Specialist Credential since 1997.

The Transition Plan and the Individualized Induction Plan (IIP) were added in regulations effective June 26, 2010 for the Preliminary Education Specialist Credential. Holders of Level I Education Specialist Credentials who choose to earn a clear credential through an induction program must work with their employing agency and program sponsor to complete an IIP.

	Type of Education Specialist Credential
	Level I	Preliminary
Individualized Teacher Preparation Plan (ITPP) completed with the applicant by the Level II program within the first 90 days of employment	X
Transition Plan must be completed by the Preliminary Education Specialist program sponsor		X
Individualized Induction Plan (IIP) based on a Transition Plan, developed cooperatively with the candidate and the support provider in order to guide the professional development of the beginning teacher during the induction period	X if individual decides to complete induction program	X