Program(s) of Professional Preparation for the Clear Education Specialist Credential

San Mateo-Foster City School District
The San Mateo-Foster City School District is proud to present its Special Education Induction Plan. We have added rigor to the Special Education Plans that support inquiry based learning through research and case study for all Education Specialists. Collaboration is a major part of the work as the Individual Learning Plan (ILP) is a continued work from the teacher’s undergraduate studies. Therefore the university, Ed Specialist, BTSA Induction Director and Support Providers all take a major role in planning the professional development for the Ed Specialist. BTSA Induction-San Mateo-Foster City (BI-SMFC) plans to serve Preliminary Education Specialists with Mild to Moderate, Moderate to Severe Preliminary Credentials.

Riverside County Office of Education
The Riverside County Office of Education is the LEA for the RIMS-BTSA Consortium Professional Teacher Induction Program. RIMS-BTSA is part of the BTSA Cluster 6 region of Riverside, Inyo, Mono, and San Bernardino counties. RIMS-BTSA has provided mentor support to teachers since 1993, and a CTC-approved induction program since 2002. To date, 4,718 completers, employed at more than 100 school districts, charter schools, county schools, and non-public schools within the region have received their clear multiple and/or single subject credential recommendation from RIMS-BTSA.

The education specialist program will offer qualified candidates concurrent enrollment in general education and special education induction as a route to their clear credentials through one provider. Both programs are closely aligned to inform teacher practice through the formative assessment and mentor support process in order to promote teacher effectiveness and ensure student success across contexts and content. Each education specialist will establish a professional growth goal within their individual induction plan that provides for professional development or advanced study to extend knowledge about their area of specialization, their practice, and student learning needs.

San Juan Unified School District
The San Juan Unified School District Education Specialist Clear Credential Program is sponsored by San Juan USD in partnership with San Juan Teachers Association. The program will operate in conjunction with the San Juan USD BTSA Induction Program, serving Education Specialists who hold Preliminary or Level 1 Mild/Moderate and Moderate/Severe credentials. Participating teachers will be supported by either full-time release teachers or classroom teachers with appropriate Education Specialist authorizations. Using the CSTP and Education Specialist program standards, the collaboration between veteran teachers (support providers) and participating teachers will focus on improving classroom practice and on developing reflective teachers who are responsive to the diverse cultural, social and linguistic backgrounds of all students. Support providers will observe and coach beginning teachers, offering short and long term planning help and classroom management consultation. Support providers will also teach demonstration lessons, provide curriculum resources, facilitate communication with site administrators, provide information about professional development opportunities, and lead participating teachers through the rigorous New Teacher Center’s Formative Assessment System. Throughout the two-year process, support providers will monitor completion of requirements and verify participating teachers’ progress towards completion with program leadership. When beginning teachers complete the clear credential requirements, they will attend an Exit Interview with San Juan USD BTSA Governance Panel members and successful candidates will be recommended for their clear credentials.

Capistrano Unified School District
The Capistrano Unified School District Induction Program for the Clear Education Specialist Credential is comprised of three components: individualized professional development, documentation and self-assessment of practice, and a multi-layered system of support. Each candidate pursues professional development options based on their professional needs and the demands of the teaching context. Using Formative Assessment for California Teachers (FACT), candidates continually document, reflect upon, and self-assessment their practice in order to advance their skills and improve student achievement. Throughout the program, candidates collaborate with qualified special education support providers, district specialists, site colleagues, and other professionals to address the needs of their students while advancing their own skills and knowledge in special education. In addition, each candidate works closely with the CUSD Teacher Development Program staff to insure that all Induction standards for the Clear Education Specialist credential are met within the two year program.

Marin County Office of Education
The Marin BTSA Induction Program is a consortium of nineteen districts in Marin County. The program supports new special education teachers in our public, charter, and private schools in clearing their Level I and Preliminary Education Specialist credentials and improving their teaching skills. We work collaboratively with our district special education support providers and directors to provide a relevant and rich induction experience based on the CSTPs and the Induction Standards.

Stanislaus County Office of Education

Stanislaus County Office of Education’s Clear Education Specialist Induction program for Education Specialist candidates is characterized by a depth of experience that challenges the Education Specialist fostering critical reflection, extending understanding and allowing for meaningful integration of theory and practice. Clear Induction candidates will be mentored by experienced Education Specialist Support Providers who guide-and support the candidates’ development through an extended menu of options as candidates participate in the Plan, Teach, Reflect and Apply cycle. SCOE’s SPED Induction program is a two year experience (with an ECO option as well) used to support and inform candidates about their professional growth as candidates complete a locally designed formative assessment system.

San Ramon Valley Unified School District

The San Ramon Valley Unified School District Special Education Credential Program is a partnership between the established BTSA program and the Special Education Program. Relying on the BTSA program's expertise in developing good teacher practice while clearing a candidate's preliminary multiple or single subject credential, and in partnership with the expertise of SRVUSD's Special Education Department, SRVUSD proposed a two year induction program to clear Level 1 and Preliminary Education Specialist credentials, which was approved in December, 2010. SRVUSD agrees to monitor the program admission process and assure that only candidates that meet the criteria established by the BTSA Task Force shall be served by the BTSA/Education Specialist Induction Program. Each candidate shall be assigned a mentor within 30 days of the start of employment, with particular attention to the candidate's authorization(s). Candidates will participate in the Induction program in their assignment, and their experiences will be authentic and connected to Individual Induction Plan goals and Inquiry Action Plans, supported by the New Teacher Center Formative Assessment System.

San Diego County Office of Education

The San Diego South County Teacher Induction Program will serve both level 1 and preliminary education specialist candidates working to clear their credentials with mild/moderate and moderate/severe authorizations. Each candidate will work closely with a trained support provider who holds the same credential. Support providers will work with the candidates through the FACT formative assessment program in a differentiated manner, provide additional professional development activities also differentiated to meet the individual candidate’s needs, and the proper completion of specific program documents verifying full program participation based upon the written program narrative. Further, each candidate will have access to an individualized official program transcript throughout the two-year program to verify their progress as they work to clear their level 1 or clear education specialist teaching credential.

Alliant University
